

From number theory to representation theory, an algebraic approach

Motivated by number theoretic questions I will discuss an algebraic approach to non-admissible branching problems, which also sheds new light on some well known classical branching problems.